Courses and seminars that may be applied toward
Fire Service Instructor Re-Certification:

12-hour Instructor's Conference - University Fire & Rescue Training Institute
National Fire Department Instructor's Conference - (FDIC) Indianapolis, Indiana
12-hour Instructional Techniques for Company Officers - University Fire & Rescue Training Institute
24-hour Fire Service Instructor I - University Fire & Rescue Training Institute
Courses relating to Instructional Methodology offered by community colleges and the NFA, Emmitsburg, MD
Courses relating to Instructional Techniques offered by community colleges and universities
Courses relating to Course Development offered by community colleges and the NFA, Emmitsburg, MD
Missouri Division of Fire Safety Certification as Fire Officer I
Courses relating to management or administration offered by community colleges and universities
Completion of any fire service or law enforcement "train-the-trainer" class

Attach documentation of a minimum of 12-hours of instructing and 12-hours as a student for a total of 24 hours of instructional development training. For every hour of verifiable instruction of a certificated course for either a fire academy, Missouri Fire & Rescue Training Institute, National Fire Academy, Division of Fire Safety, or documented in-service training, you will receive one hour of credit toward re-certification, up to twelve hours. The remaining twelve hours must come from a course or conference you have attended within the last three years for instructional development.

Courses and seminars that may be applied toward
Fire Inspector Re-Certification:

Fire Marshal's Association of Missouri Annual Conference
Courses relating to fire inspection offered by the National Fire Academy, Emmitsburg, MD
Courses relating to fire inspection offered by the University Fire & Rescue Training Institute
ICC and other community colleges and universities
Courses relating to fire code inspection and enforcement

Documentation of at least 30 hours of training as a student or instructor in the field of fire inspection must be submitted to be re-certified as a Fire Inspector. The above list of courses and seminars is suggested for training hours; however, you may submit documentation of related courses for review that may not appear on this list.

Courses and seminars that may be applied toward
Fire Investigator Re-Certification:

12-hour Fire Investigator Recertification/Upgrade Class sponsored by the Division of Fire Safety
Kansas City Arson Task Force, Kansas City, Missouri
International Association of Arson Investigator's courses and conferences
Professional Fire & Fraud Investigator's Association Conferences
Fire Marshal's Association of Missouri Annual Conference
Courses and seminars in the field of Law Enforcement
Courses relating to fire investigation offered by the National Fire Academy, Emmitsburg, MD Courses relating to fire investigation offered by the University Fire & Rescue Training Institute and other community colleges and universities
Courses offered by the Bureau of Treasury, Division of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms
www.CFITrainer.net

Documentation of at least 30 hours of training as a student or instructor in the field of fire investigation is necessary to be re-certified as a Fire Investigator. The above list of courses and seminars is suggested for training hours; however, you may submit documentation of related courses for review that may not appear on this list.